

Westinghouse Mimic Diagram Services

PRODUCT PROFILE

Mimic diagrams, in a variety of formats, have been manufactured by HWE Ltd for many years, with the premier style being the Domino® type. The original design of the Domino® style mimic was tailored to suit the railway industry, which required an easily modified system, that at the same time would be capable of maintaining safety at the highest level combined with a long operational life.

We can now manufacture replacement parts for the Westinghouse 'M' series mosaic panels from the early 40 x 40 mosaics through to the larger 'Biscuit tin lid' M5 panels, all parts are Network Rail approved and used extensively throughout the network.

We compliment the manufacture we can provide an installation service assisting the projecting teams.
